Twins Louie, Gianna give Keeper's House roses a drink

Louie and Gianna, an adorable pair of four-year-old twins, live with their parents, Anthony and Tracey Tomaselli, just a stone's throw from the historic Keeper's House in Danbury Township. The youngsters volunteered this summer to keep things colorful at the historic building, watering the roses and other flowers most every day. Purchased by the Ottawa County Historical Society in 1989, the Keeper's House is the oldest homestead in the county, said the society's Bill Coder. It was built in the 1800's as the home of Benajah and Rachel Wolcott, both of whom were Marblehead Lighthouse keepers. The Danbury Township Service and Maintenance Department helps maintain the venerable home. (Photo by D'Arcy Egan)
